IB Evaluation PROCESS

From the IB Coordinator's POV

Ermina Pierre
IBMYP Coordinator, New Renaissance Middle

Agenda

1. WHAT ARE THE PURPOSES OF THE IB EVALUATION?
2. THE EVALUATION PROCESS
3. WAYS TO HELP YOUR TEACHERS
4. THE HANDBOOK
5. FINAL NOTES
6. QUESTIONS

What are the PURPOSES of the IB Evaluation?

1 Reflection

IB Evaluation used for reflection on strengths and weaknesses of program development.
This evaluation process involves a thorough assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of the program, including its curriculum, pedagogy, and assessment practices.

2 Feedback

The feedback provided by the evaluation team is used to identify areas of strength and weakness in the program to ensure that the program meets the needs of students, provides them with a high-quality education, and prepares them for success in the future.

3 Action Plan

After the IB school evaluation, the school is provided with a report that provides information on developing an effective action plan for further program development.

The Evaluation Process

Step 1: Preliminary Review

Approximately 30 documents that you send to IB for review. This includes SGOs, Unit Planners, Policies, Organization Chart, etc. Must be submitted 4 months before evaluation.

Step 2: Address Preliminary MTBA's

Once they review the preliminary documents, they send you a list of Preliminary MTBAs that you have 21 days to address. They may or may not send another review of this.

Step 3: Self- Study

This process may or may not be started before the preliminary documents are sent. You collect feedback and input from all stakeholders to complete comprehensive self-study.

Step 4: Meet with Evalaution Team

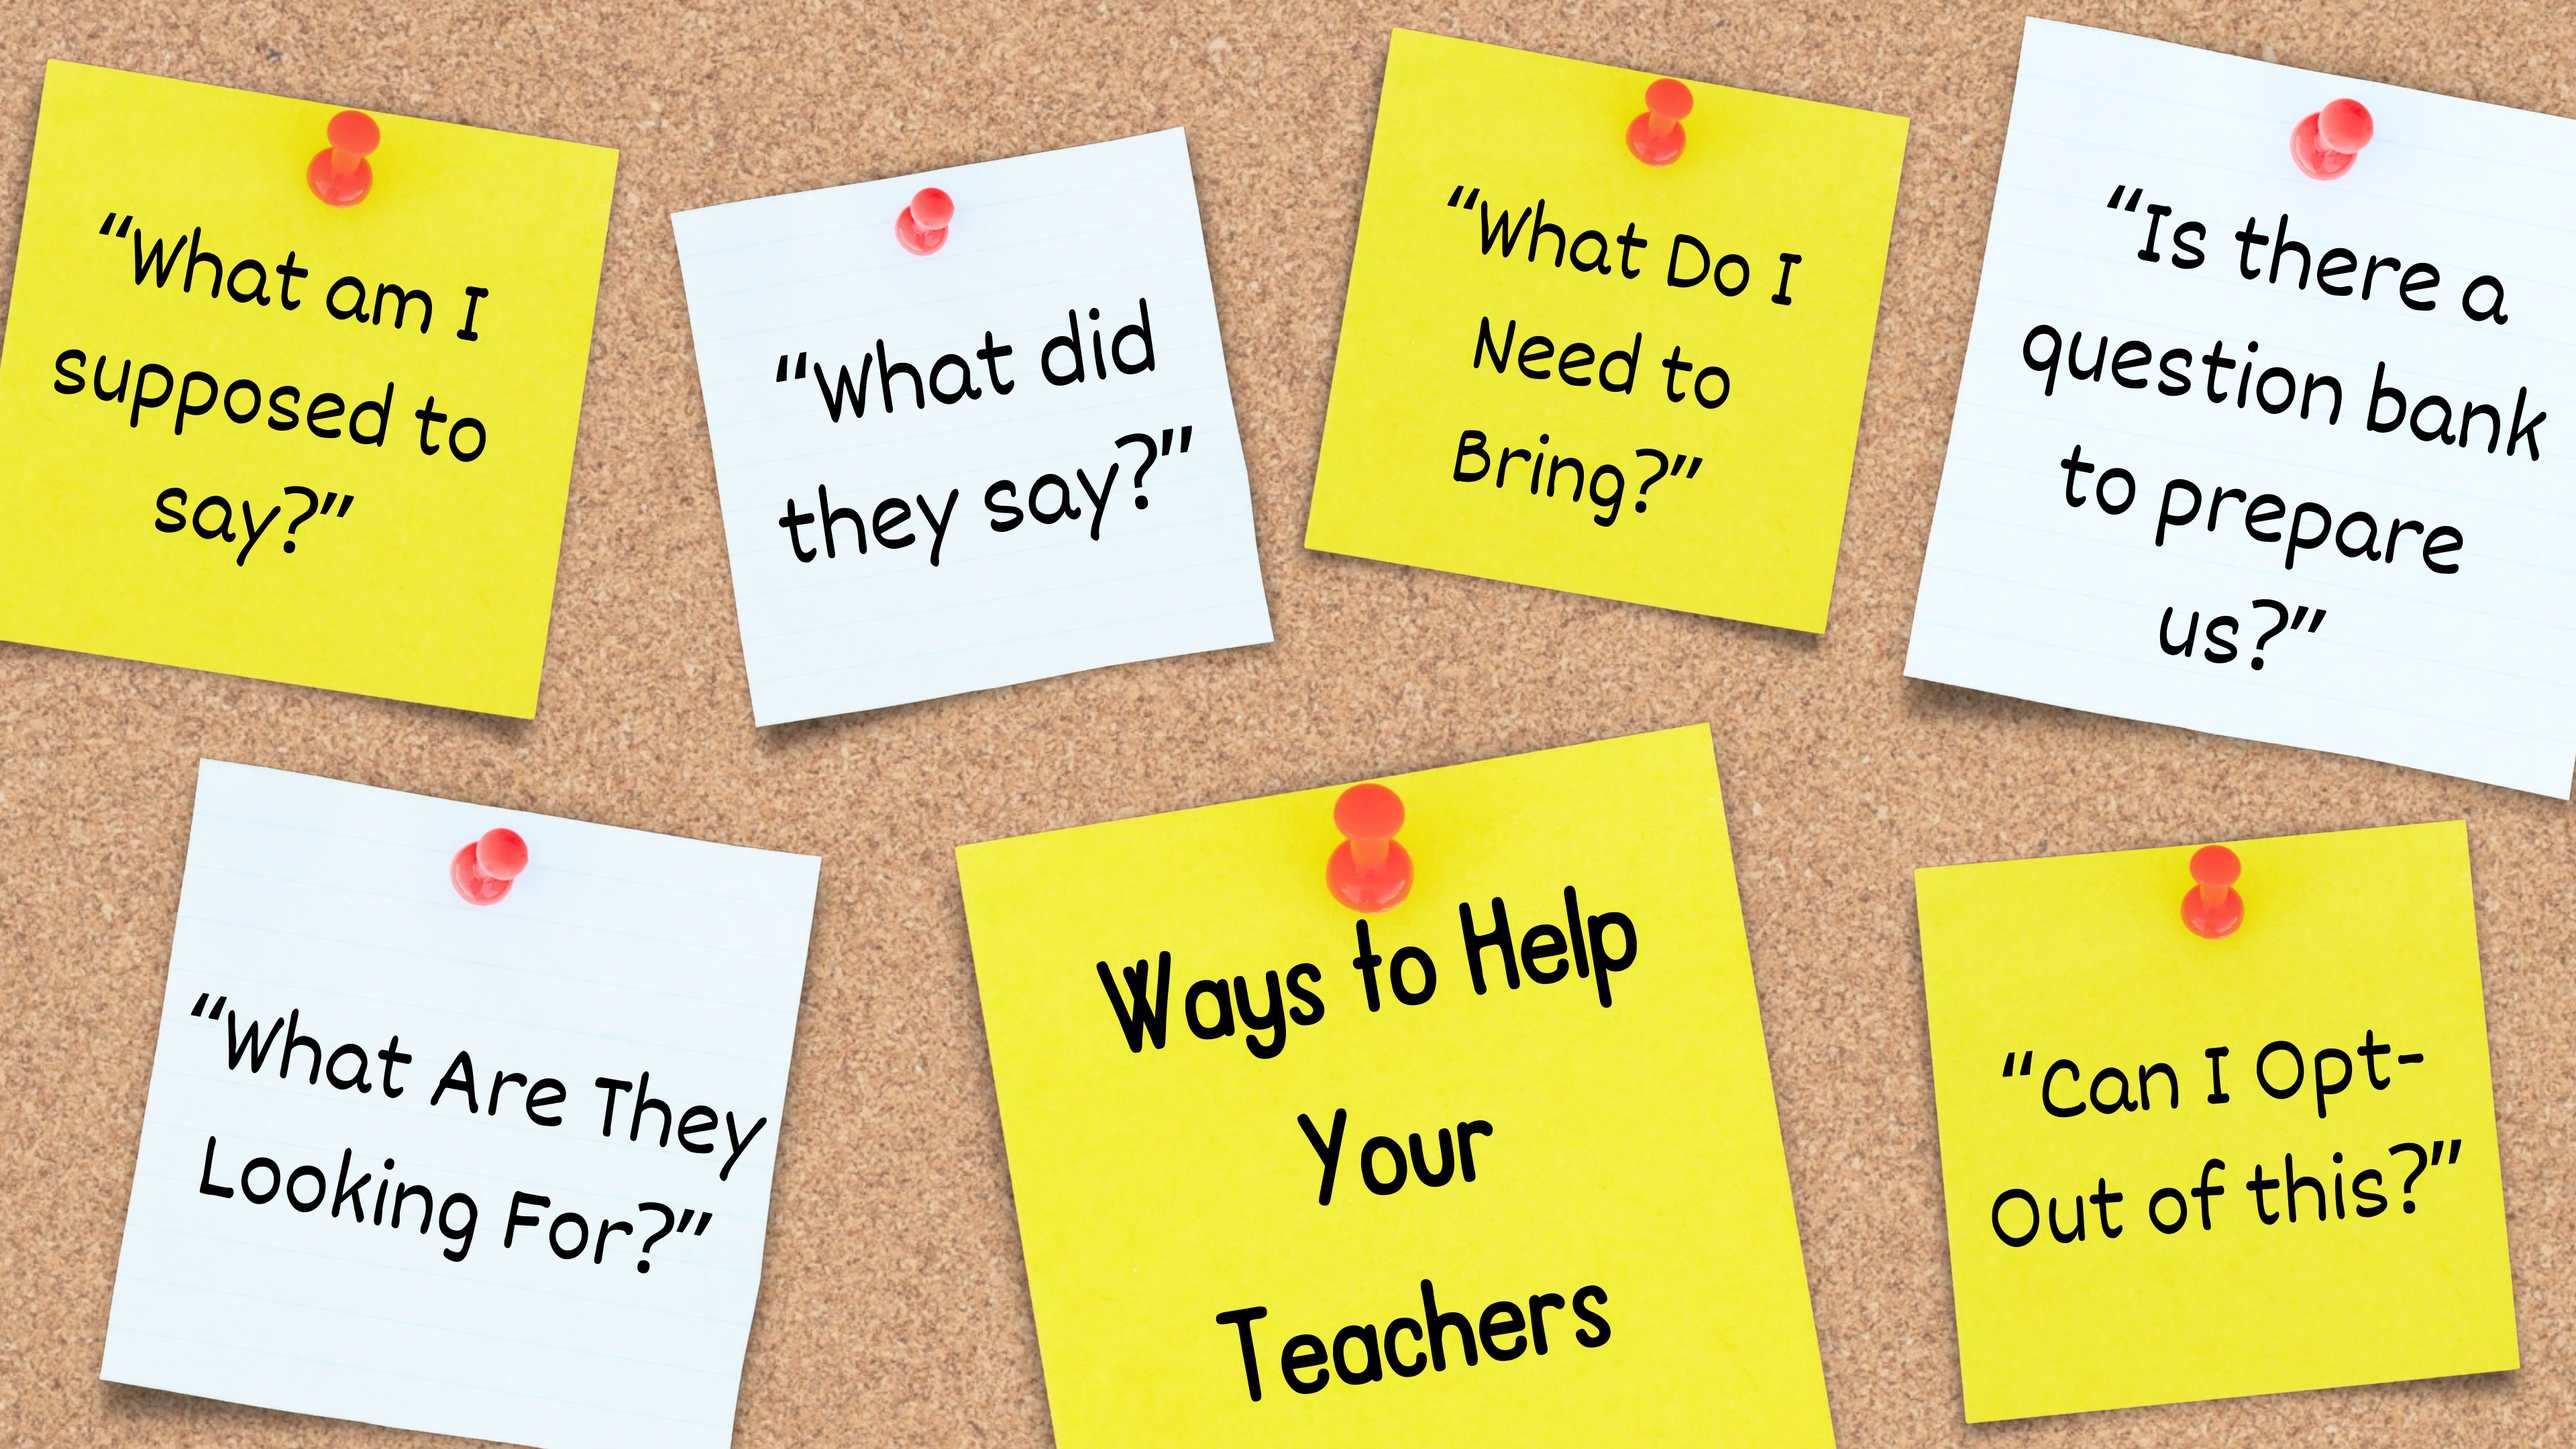

An email with your programme and evaluation leader's contact information will be shared. Schedule a meeting with them to go over expectations from them and from your team and to review agenda requirements.

Step 5: Agenda Approval

Submit your agenda to your evaluation team for review. They will provide feedback and/or approve of the agenda.

Step 6: Evaluation Visit

Up to this point, you have placed a consider amount of work in to coordinate. Please have grace with yourself and know it will not be perfect... and that is okay.

"What am I supposed to say?"
"What did they say?"
"What Do I Need to Bring?"
"Is there a question bank to prepare us?"
"What Are They Looking For?"
Ways to Help Your Teachers
"Can I Opt-Out of this?"

The Handbook

The purpose of the handbook was to compile pertinent information that the teachers who are a part of the evaluation may want to review. It includes some of the important items such as:

1. Cheat Sheets (encouraged teachers to read and take notes).
2. Five (5) IB Policies
3. Programme Standards and Practices
4. Programme Development Plan (PDP)

Final Notes

PDP

One of the forgotten compliance pieces of IB. You are expected to complete 1 PDP each year. ONE out of the past five years will be submitted during the Preliminary Review step. During the evaluation, two meetings are dedicated to this PDP: "Planning" and "Implementation."

Know Yourself

While the evaluation serves as a reflection process for practices at the school, as the coordinator/organizer for the evaluation, it is important to know yourself and what works for you so that you do not become overwhelmed (very easy to get overwhelmed).

Questions?

THANK YOU!